

Sample copy from forthcoming PACMOORE website

Connect your business to a greater mission.

Together, we can open doors for “whole life” communities.

Our contract manufacturing services go beyond delivering the highest quality products for our customers. We have a greater mission in mind: to love, serve and honor Jesus Christ in everything we do. That means forging customer relationships built on trust, accountability, and communication. It means creating jobs, promoting a culture of respect and integrity, and building sustainable communities both locally and globally. Other contract manufacturers can get the job done. With PacMoore, you can make a difference.

Safety, Consistency, and Scalability

We manufacture your products with strict quality controls to ensure that production runs are exact, every time. We go to great lengths to secure and protect your information, and we will never, ever compete with you by making similar products. Our blending, sifting, spraying, and turnkey processing capabilities can meet almost any requirement for food and dry ingredients. And with our know-how and technology, we can scale when you do.

Trusted, Long-Term Relationships

We also look for opportunities to enhance our partnerships with our customers, including investing in new equipment, expanding our facilities, and most importantly, investing in our people. In addition to our unmatched training and certification programs, we offer ESL and GED education, as well as opportunities for spiritual growth and support. We believe in making “whole life” investments into our employees to build the same kind of trusted and lasting relationships we have with our customers.

At PacMoore, we view business as a mission. More than just a social responsibility campaign, it is a calling we have been given as disciples of Christ. When you partner with us, you know that you are making a positive impact in our local communities, and worldwide. We invite you to learn more about our capabilities, and to contact us for your dry ingredient manufacturing needs.

R&D

Stay a step ahead in the competitive food industry by developing new products for your consumer market. Our experienced personnel can help you create new or improved blends, solve production challenges, and get the maximum benefit from our state-of-the-art pilot equipment.

Quality

Quality is our top priority, and we have the certifications to show it. Both of our plants are certified to the BRC Global Standards for Food Safety and operate with fully functioning HACCP plans in place. Both facilities are also certified by GMA-SAFE and are audit-ready at all times.

Purchasing

PacMoore can save you money and improve turnaround time by purchasing raw ingredients on your behalf. We hold all suppliers to the highest quality standards to ensure you receive the finished product to your exact specifications. From toll processing to partial or full turnkey purchasing, we've got you covered.

Ingredient Storage

Store ingredients for on-demand production at either of our Midwest facilities to improve the efficiency and profitability of your business. We ensure careful segregation of allergens and raw materials, and each location uses dedicated shipping docks and dedicated personnel for an added layer of security.

Processing

A recipe only works if you follow it. That's why we provide a processing profile for every project and give you complete control over the manufacturing. From the new product meeting through delivery of finished ingredients, we only do what you tell us to, and never veer from your directives.

Packaging

Tell us the packaging you want, or let us procure the best options for your product. Configurations include retail-size pouches, multi-wall bags, boxes, drums, bulk bags, bulk trucks, rail cars, and more. Our efficient solutions can easily integrate with your production line.

Warehousing

We offer 15 days' free warehousing on both inbound shipments and outbound storage of finished goods at both of our facilities. Each warehouse storage location is designated and labeled for identification and tracking, giving you increased logistics flexibility and more options for direct shipping.

Shipping

Let us take the worry out of your logistics. We can receive and ship ingredients and packaging at either of our locations by rail car, LTL, and full truckload. And we always go the extra mile to protect your product, maintaining rigorous standards of cleanliness and adding dunnage to safeguard finished goods.